

FRANCE'S CANDIDATE — ITU RADIOCOMMUNICATION BUREAU

Eric Fournier

Strengthening ITU-R

framework every Member State relies on — made more inclusive and efficient

The regulatory backbone

Radiocommunications and spectrum management essential to every ITU Member State.

More inclusive decisions

Improving participation of all Member States in the decision-making process.

Beyond WRC

Recommendations, Reports and Handbooks serve the membership

Focusing on technical/regulatory matters

Meetings can be slow — inherent to consensus-building but needs better efficiency.

Leveraging BR Expertise

Three pillars to put the Bureau's expertise to work

Skilled, diverse staff

A team with broad technical and regulatory expertise across all profiles.

RR is a core activity: always need for more transparency and efficiency

Updating/improving BR tools, introducing AI.

BR expertise for growing support to Member States

Worldwide and regional BR seminars e.g. to help Caribbean countries adopting space policies.
Joining effort with BDT for capacity-building.

Radio Regulations: Challenges Ahead

Keeping the global regulatory backbone fair, flexible and future-ready

Rising complexity

More sharing, more innovation
— and more rules to implement and clarify with the RRB.

Flexible, but fair

The RR must adapt to innovation — with no one exempt from the rules or pre-empting shared resources.

WRC-27 to be a success

Key decisions ahead: direct-to-device, EPFD limit studies, sea-surface temperature allocations, etc.

Solving Harmful Interference

Compliance and cooperation — not confrontation

Conformity with the RR

The key safeguard against harmful interference.

Strengthening international monitoring

Encouraging MS to develop new monitoring capabilities (e.g. satellite)

BR supporting administrations

Helping Member States address harmful interference.

No room for jamming or spoofing

ITU stands for peaceful relations and international cooperation.

Why I Am a Strong Candidate

30
YEARS

of experience in ITU, Radio
Regulations and World
Radiocommunication
Conferences — across every issue
and service at stake.

Responding to MS needs

Experience of cooperation with countries across every continent — knowledge of Caribbean specific situations and needs

Cross-cutting skillset

Technical, regulatory and political expertise combined.

Conclusion

Ready to lead the Bureau forward.

Equity, efficiency, innovation

The three priorities guiding every action.

Safeguarding multilateralism

Protecting the multilateral process and effective application of the RR.

Committed to every Member State

Full neutrality and transparency, without exception.
